“There is a reason [Apple co-founder Steve] Jobs could only have come from a liberal arts background. ACADEMICS

ENGAGED LEARNING

Centre students are actively involved in their education. Just how involved? In the most recent National Survey of Student Engagement (NSSE), Centre exceeded the national average in all of NSSE's four key measures: academic challenge, student interactions with faculty, learning with peers, and campus environment.

Centre particularly excels in enriching educational experiences, according to the NSSE report. For example, 77 percent of students had participated in some form of internship, co-op, field experience, student teaching, or clinical placement. Eighty-two percent of seniors reported studying abroad, and 93 percent of students reported active participation in co-curricular activities such as student organizations and student government, campus publications, Greek life, or athletics.

WHY LIBERAL ARTS?

At Centre we believe in the power of learning to transform and enlighten lives. Our seal says it all: Doctrina Lux Mentis ("Learning Is the Light of the Mind").

The Centre Commitment

Centre prepares students for real-world success in a timely manner. And we back our pledge with a guarantee. All students who meet the College's academic and social expectations and are enrolled for four consecutive academic years will:

- study abroad,
- have an internship or research opportunity, and
- graduate in four years,

or Centre will provide up to an additional year of study tuition-free.

BALANCE AND ADVENTURE

Centre is a place of adventure. Don't let a narrow education limit your career choices. Our broad general requirements ensure you'll develop the versatility needed to succeed in today's rapidly changing work environment. Explore a variety of courses during your first two years before focusing on your major(s) and minor(s) as a junior and senior. And no matter what major or first job you choose, our liberal arts focus means you'll develop the essential critical thinking and writing skills to keep you nimble in the world of work.

A CLASS TO REMEMBER

Choose from courses in 41 disciplines. We have no large lecture classes. Most upper-level courses have no more than 15 students, and the normal maximum class size is 30. (Your professor will know you.) We offer 26 majors and 34 minors. Or design your own in consultation with your advisor.

CENTRETERM IMMERSION

CentreTerm means focus . . . and fun. Students take one intense class during the 22 days of CentreTerm. The class might be on campus (exploring such topics as "Theology of Harry Potter" or "Economics of Thoroughbreds"), off-campus (in one of a number of countries), or an internship. First-year students take special seminars just for them. Recent options have included "Mathematics in Sports, Games, and Gambling," "Islam in America," and "Rainmaking," a class on leadership taught by President John Roush every other year. (Upperclass students can take the class in alternate years.)

IMPORTANCE OF RESEARCH—BY UNDERGRADUATES

Data repeatedly demonstrate that student participation in “mentored scholarship”—collaborative research with a professor—and other undergraduate research leads to stronger educational outcomes. Students say they have more confidence and motivation, better communication skills, and greater overall satisfaction with their educational experience.

Centre offers several programs that support undergraduate research. They are open to students from all disciplines, not just science.

- RICE (Research, Internships, and Creative Endeavors): An all-campus symposium held each spring for students from all disciplines and all classes.
- John C. Young Scholars: A competitive program that enables seniors to spend a year working on an independent study, research, or artistic project, then present the results at a formal program in the spring. Funding is available. It is named for a notable 19th-century Centre president.
- 400-level independent research courses: Mentored by an appropriate faculty member during the academic year.
- Summer research: Paid opportunities to work with Centre faculty on their research.

Distinctive Yearly Calendar

Centre’s 4-1-4 calendar offers long terms in the fall and spring (four courses each) and a short CentreTerm in January (one course).

“If you enjoy and thrive in environments rich in academic content and discussion with peers, Centre is the place for you. I can ask questions freely in class or just run upstairs from the library to my professor’s office as I work.”

STUDY ABROAD

GO GLOBAL (GUARANTEED)

Travel the world with Centre as your passport. Centre gives you access to the world and teaches you to thrive in other cultures. We have semester-long residential programs led by Centre professors in:

- London, England
- Merida, Mexico, on the Yucatan Peninsula
- Strasbourg, France

We have additional semester-long residential exchange programs in:

- Belfast and Ulster, Northern Ireland
- Glasgow, Scotland
- Lleida, Spain
- London, England
- Reading, England
- Shanghai, China
- Yamaguchi, Japan

RESIDENTIAL PROGRAMS ABROAD

Our residential programs during the fall and spring terms cost the same as study on the Danville campus except for airfare and a $375 surcharge that helps cover outings and special meals. All financial aid remains exactly the same. It will never be so inexpensive for you to live in another country.*

We also offer a wealth of shorter programs all over the world. About 85 percent of Centre students study abroad at least once—and roughly 25 percent at least twice—so chances are you will, too. Under the terms of the Centre Commitment (see page 7), students are guaranteed an international experience (as long as they meet the College's academic and social expectations).

SHORT TRIPS ADD OPTIONS

In addition to our long-term programs, we offer an ever-changing array of January and summer trips. CentreTerm classes in January 2016 will be held in Argentina and Uruguay, Costa Rica and Panama, Ecuador, Egypt, Japan, India, Morocco and Spain, New Zealand, and Uganda and Rwanda. There are also internship programs in Costa Rica, Brazil, and Merida, Mexico.

"STUDY AWAY" PROGRAMS

For those who prefer an urban experience closer to home, we offer "study away" internship programs in Chicago and Washington, D.C. Students complete an internship and take courses in the fall or spring term. In Chicago, students choose courses based on one of three tracks: arts, entrepreneurship, or urban studies. The classes in D.C.—"Art and Architecture" and "The City as Text"—make full use of the Capitol City as classroom.

*Unless your experience inspires you to win a competitive opportunity to teach English abroad for a year. A 2015 graduate won a Fulbright to spend a year teaching in Spain. Others are teaching in France and Japan through awards sponsored by the countries.

Your Passport Awaits.

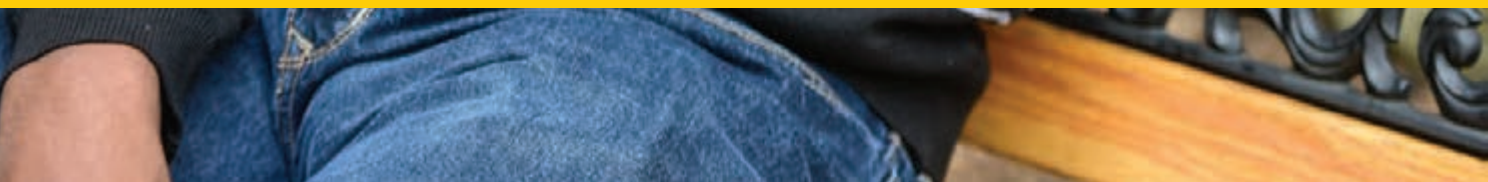

The College reimburses all entering students for the cost of a passport if they do not already have one.

“Studying abroad in London last spring was the first time I truly felt that I was a citizen of the world because while in Europe I was able to witness ways of living other than my own. These things can’t be taught, they have to be experienced, and they were the best part of studying abroad.”

“I like the fact that students and faculty care deeply about our local campus community yet are also insatiably curious about our global community. Mission Statement

Centre's mission is to prepare students for lives of learning, leadership, and service.

Statement of Community

We pledge continuing efforts to build and strengthen a community enriched by our differences and founded upon our common humanity. Centre respects the right of all members of the community to express their individuality in a manner that is consistent with the dignity and welfare of others. Centre strives to create an environment where differences are celebrated rather than discouraged, where individuals have the opportunity to exchange ideas and share in the richness of mutual experience. By valuing the individual's total character over any single characteristic, Centre will maintain its unique community.

Learning how to make a positive difference in the world is central to Centre's mission.

Vice President Joe Biden spoke with Centre students when he was on campus in 2012 for Centre's second VP debate.

“The coaching staff has been so supportive of me wanting to pursue other things Centre had to offer (study abroad, theater), while also providing a chance to play for a winning program—and at such a highly ranked academic institution.”

Finals Week Breakfast
Faculty and staff serve students breakfast (and perhaps a study tip or two) during a study break the night before exams.

Picnic with the President
During Orientation Week, President and Mrs. Roush invite all incoming first-years to a picnic in their backyard. It's a good time for them to get to know Centre's newest students.

“Every course I take challenges me to think outside of the box. I’m expected to synthesize and apply the information I’m taught to my everyday living, and my professors expect to learn something from me. Their expectations have created a great work ethic.”

AFTER CENTRE

MAKE IT PERSONAL

Our teachers—and our president—will know you. They will give you their cell numbers, stop by your table in the dining hall, and show up at your recital or soccer match. Because they know you personally, they can help you stretch to succeed.

Centre professors often invite students to collaborate with them. Joint research projects and writing papers for publication with your professors will give you valuable experience and résumé credits.

CAREER SERVICES

Sign up with the Center for Career & Professional Development during extended orientation in September. Your personal career counselor will help you explore majors and careers, find summer jobs and internships, work on résumés and cover letters for graduate school and jobs, and network with alumni.

CENTRE ADVANTAGES

- Interesting and rewarding jobs provide personal and professional satisfaction. Within a year of graduation, 95 percent of the Centre graduates who report (on average) are either employed or engaged in advanced study.
- Entrance to top graduate and professional schools (including Cambridge, London School of Economics, Cornell, Johns Hopkins, Texas A&M, University of Chicago, University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill, and Vanderbilt) positions you to reach your highest intellectual and career potential.
- An outstanding academic reputation adds value to your degree. Centre is ranked among America's leading institutions by Forbes, U.S. News, and virtually all other guidebooks.
- Personal attention from outstanding professors allows you to progress faster. Our 10.5 to 1 student to faculty ratio means your professors will know you by name—not as a number.

More recent alumni are equally distinguished and are eager to help you make valuable job contacts in almost any field and location imaginable.

“Centre taught me to not take anything at face value, to always pose more questions. This has prepared me for a career doing political and economic research, in the sense that I go against the norm by questioning it.”

JESSICA CRUZAN '15 • SHREVEPORT, LOUISIANA • MAJORS: ECONOMICS, MATHEMATICS • AFTER CENTRE: RESEARCH ASSISTANT AT G.F.W. INC., WASHINGTON, D.C.

HAPPIEST GRADUATES

Centre ranks No. 1 in the nation two years running for graduates happy with their college experience. According to the Alumni Factor, “Centre grads simply can’t glow enough about their ... academic gem in the geographic center of Kentucky.”

OUTSTANDING RESOURCES

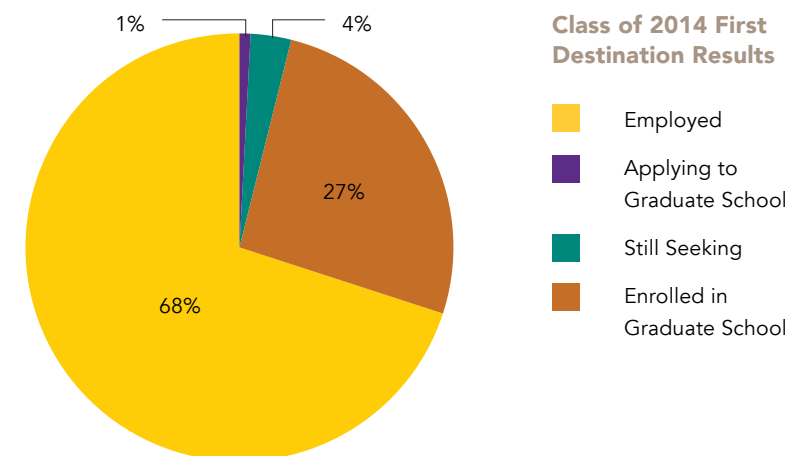

For more than 30 years, Centre alumni have been among the nation’s leaders in percentage who contribute annually to their alma mater. Their generosity enables us to provide ample financial aid, maintain a low student/faculty ratio, support student/faculty research, and offer one of the nation’s top study abroad programs. Such loyalty is further proof that alumni value their Centre experience even years after graduation.

FINANCIAL AID & SCHOLARSHIPS

GENEROUS FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

Nearly 65 percent of our students receive need-based aid, and more than half receive merit-based aid. As a result, Centre students who borrow graduate with less debt than the national average.

CENTRE: VALUE AND AFFORDABILITY

Families often mistakenly believe that their incomes are too high to qualify for need-based aid. Many factors are involved in determining financial aid eligibility, and many with above-average incomes qualify for aid. Use our net price calculator to determine your likely eligibility at www.centre.edu/afford.

CENTRE FINANCIAL AID FACTS

- Last year, the average aid package for an incoming student was $29,897. The range was $10,000 to $42,400.
- Renewable competitive merit scholarships are available for more than half of each first-year class, worth from $2,500 all the way to full cost.
- An interest-free payment plan is available. It allows you to pay in 10, 11, or 12 monthly installments beginning in July.
- Regardless of income, all parents may borrow through the federal Parent Loans for Undergraduate students (PLUS) program an amount equal to the cost of education, minus any aid their student has received.

2015-16 Cost

Our comprehensive fee (tuition, room, and board) is $47,820. Our generous need-based financial aid and merit scholarships make Centre a great value as well as unusually affordable.

Cost Comparison

Below is a comparison of the 2015-16 comprehensive fees (tuition, room, and board) for some of the nation's leading institutions.

Williams College	$64,020

Danville: City of Firsts

Founded in 1784, Danville is called the City of Firsts. It was the first capital of Kentucky (1785) and held the first constitutional convention in the West (1792). More than two centuries later, it was the smallest town to host a general election debate when Centre held the nation's only vice presidential debates in 2000 and again in 2012.

APPLICATION TIMETABLE

We have three application deadlines. Apply by November 15 for Early Decision. Apply by December 1 for Early Action. Apply by January 15 for Regular Decision.

EARLY DECISION

Early Decision candidates receive admission and award notifications earlier than non-binding (Early Action and Regular Decision) applicants. They pledge to enroll if they are admitted and to withdraw applications to other schools at that time, provided they receive a financial aid award that makes it possible to attend.

Apply by November 15 to receive a response by early January on admission and merit scholarships and by late January on financial aid. The deposit for Early Decision is due February 1.

EARLY ACTION AND REGULAR DECISION

Two non-binding application options are available: Early Action (apply by December 1 for an early response) or Regular Decision (apply by January 15). The $300 deposit for both plans must be postmarked by May 1.

Applications received after January 15 will be reviewed according to space available. Transfer applications for the fall term are due June 1.
